De La Housaye & Associates Moves to New Walnut Creek Office

June 20, 2006, Walnut Creek, CA -- De La Housaye & Associates, Law Corp., a litigation and business transactional law firm headquartered in Walnut Creek, California, has recently moved to its new office in downtown Walnut Creek. The firm's new principal office is now located at 1655 North Main St., in the heart of the city's busy business area.

"The new office affords us the opportunity to grow and add attorneys and support staff as we build and enhance our practice and our ability to service our client base," states founding attorney, Angela De La Housaye. "We are now able to provide a more diverse practice to service clients through the excellent facilities in our new space."

De La Housaye & Associates is a thriving practice with offices in Walnut Creek and Los Angeles. The firm provides clients small-firm attention and large-firm expertise at competitive rates. With extensive experience in civil litigation and business transactional law, the attorneys and legal professionals at the firm deliver exceptional service as well as personal attention to its clients.
